Public Works News Release

Mac Iver Street Improvements Project Complete

Repaving the old section of Mac Iver Street was completed 30 June. With that paving work done, the major construction on the Mac Iver Street Improvements project is finally complete. Major construction on Mac Iver consisted of two phases. One phase involved the construction of the street extension. The other involved the construction of curb, gutter, and sidewalk. Future minor work is planned to improve street lighting in the area but that work will be done as a separate project. This street lighting project is planned for the coming months.

The Mac Iver project is a success through the involvement, cooperation, and support of the Bishop City Council, Sierra Nevada Construction, Truhls Concrete, Triad Holmes Associates, Eastern Sierra Engineering, Bear Engineering, the Inyo Local Transportation Commission, Caltrans District 9, businesses, residents, property owners on Mac Iver Street, and the Bishop community at large. The patience of drivers and pedestrians has been appreciated throughout the extended construction period. All should take pride in the finished product.

The final cost of building the Mac Iver project, that started in October 2007, including the street extension, curb, gutter, sidewalk, drainage, pavement, water, and sewer work, is about $1.0 million.
