Public Works News Release

Bishop Street Projects Available for Review

Engineering and environmental work is progressing on the West Pine Street Improvements project and the Sneden Street Improvements project. Draft documents that analyze the potential impacts of the projects on the neighborhoods and the environment are available for review at City Hall, at the Bishop Library, and at the City of Bishop web site. Construction is planned on these projects within the next two years.

Both projects will reconstruct the pavement, remove and replace curb and sidewalk, make water and sewer improvements, improve drainage, and remove and replace trees. The street improvements will be very similar to those that were constructed a couple of years ago on Home Street and that will be constructed in the next month or so on South Second Street.

The West Pine project is between Home Street and Main Street and is expected to cost about $2 million. The Sneden Street project is between South Street and Line Street and is expected to cost about $1 million. Funds for the street improvements are from state gas taxes. Funds for the water and sewer improvements are from city water and sewer funds.

Your involvement and input is needed to ensure these projects are the best they can be. Please take the time to review the environmental documents and comment on them as you see fit.
