South Second Street Construction Update 8

With the last finishing touches being put on the project today and early next week, construction of the City of Bishop South Second Street Improvements project will finally be complete.

Construction projects are messy, and the South Second Street project has been no exception. Patience with the mess and inconvenience shown by owners, residents, and visitors affected by the project has been greatly appreciated.

With construction all but done, and with 70 new trees on the street, the street looks good. Property owners and residents are urged to landscape and then start to maintain the planter strips in front of their properties as soon as possible. A very important part of that maintenance will be watering the new trees. Once those strips are greened up and the new trees establish themselves, the street should start to look great.

The project has been possible through the involvement, cooperation, and support of the Bishop City Council, V and C Construction, the Inyo Local Transportation Commission, Caltrans District 9, the Los Angeles Department of Water and Power, neighbors of the project, and the Bishop community at large. All should take pride in the finished product. The final cost of building the project that started in March, including engineering, curb, gutter, sidewalk, pavement, water, sewer, and tree replacement, will be about $1 million.
